Please retain for your records & future reference

Welcome to the Australian College of Sports Development. Thank you for choosing this college for furthering your education. The following information is to help you during your time with ACSD.

WHAT IS AN RTO?

A Registered Training Organisation (RTO) is an accredited training provider that has been approved under the VQA Act of 2000. An RTO is regularly assessed by the Office of Training and Tertiary Education to ensure that all training and education courses offered are delivered in adherence to the Australian Quality Training framework. As an RTO, ACSD offers nationally recognised training courses that eventually lead to nationally recognised qualifications. A list of the accredited courses appears later in this document.

ABOUT ACSD

The College began in Bendigo central Victoria in 1994 under the direction of local martial arts identity Mr Barry Johnston, now director of the ACSD. Mr Johnston holds a 5th Dan in traditional Karate (former Australian representative of the 1981 Kyokushin full contact Karate championships in Jakarta). Mr Johnston also has a sound knowledge of the security and fitness industries, having worked in both disciplines for many years prior commencing the college.

'Kenshusei' is a Japanese term that translates as 'special student' and that is exactly what you become when you join our programs.

The original focus of the college was in the development of training programs for the martial arts industry. ACSD has been involved in the writing of generic courses for the fitness and martial arts industry.

Since 1999 the ACSD have specialised primarily in the sport coaching and fitness industries. ACSD is responsible for the onsite training for many of Australia's sport coach's recognised under the Australian Qualifications Framework, including: - swimming, martial arts (all disciplines), football, golf, tennis and rowing. Most qualifications offered by the college are now accepted in Australia as minimum standards necessary to become a sports and or fitness coach.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Mission of the ACSD is twofold:

First, it is our objective to offer the best training and education programs possible. It is our intent to develop an organisation of quality and integrity that offers our clients nationally endorsed qualifications in a flexible learning environment. Our goal is to develop an organisation with a level of excellence where all work for the good of the program. We want to develop a synergistic group where the 'whole' of the organisation is greater than the sum of its parts.

Second, we want to establish ACSD as an international training and education organisation. We want ACSD to be considered a world leader in the field of education and training. Our goal is to be at the cutting edge of the industries that we serve and to continually develop new and innovative ways to market and implement our programs. We want ACSD to be known for delivering quality courses and services. We want to be the innovators, not the imitators.

WHO WILL BE TRAINING YOU?

All trainers and assessors at the ACSD are well qualified and have years of experience in their particular field. All trainers and assessors hold qualifications higher than those that they are training as well as the Certificate IV in Assessment and Workplace Training. You will find all staff to be very knowledgeable in their respective fields and very approachable.

RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING (RPL)

RPL recognises the skills you have gained from other courses, life experience, work experience and training provided at work. The RPL process measures your skills against the outcomes of a course or module.

RPL includes course/module exemptions. RPL does not include Credit Transfer.

It is important to apply for RPL if you think you already have some experience that might be relevant to your course.

The advantages of RPL are:

You can work out whether your experience and/or training is similar to that required by the course/module for which you have enrolled. (Note: results can only be entered after enrolment.) If you have already achieved some of the outcomes you might not have to do some of those again, thereby saving time and effort. It means that you only have to do modules which are new and challenging. It recognises that you are commencing with many skills - that you are not a total beginner. If you would like to move ahead with the RPL process please contact our admin team on (03) 5444 1890 for further information.

MUTUAL RECOGNITION

The ACSD will recognise units if competence and qualifications issued by other registered training organisations that are recognised under the requirements of the vocational education and training act of 1990. Qualifications need to be copied and verified then presented to The ACSD for recognition.
